VCWSA

The Union of Chinese students and scholars in Aachen (German: Verband der Chinesischen Wissenschaftler und Studenten in Aachen, VCWSA) is a Non Government Organization which was founded in the 80s of 20th. century. The members of VCWSA are Chinese students and scholars who live and work in Aachen, Germany. VCWSA gets direct financial support from General Consulate of People's Republic of China in Frankfurt am Main and International Office (IO) of RWTH Aachen University, and leads a tight cooperation with several social & governmental groups, e.g: the Chinese Embassy in Germany, DAAD (Deutsches Akademische Auslandsdienst), CASD (Vereinigung Chinesischer Akademischer und Studentischer Gesellschaften in Deutschland e.V.), Stadt Aachen, INCAS (Interkulturelles Centrum Aachener Studierender), ASG (Adam-Schall-Gesellschaft für Deutsch-Chinesische Zusammenarbeit e.V.) and so on. The main task of VCWSA is to benefit all the Chinese students in Aachen, to help them get through problems they have to face, and to make their lives in Aachen as convenient as possible.

Meanwhile, VCWSA has collaborated with other universities and student unions for many years, helping Chinese students and students around the world learn from and understand each other better than ever.

VCWSA is divided into four working groups: the department of social relations, the department of recreations, the department of academic & culture exchanges, and the department of publicity. The new members of VCWSA are elected once in an academic year. As a NGO (Nichtregierungsorganisation), all financial supports are welcomed by VCWSA. In the last few years, the main sponsors of VCWSA are General Consulate of People's Republic of China, the IO of RWTH Aachen University, travel agencies and other companies in Germany.

Shiyuan Li, 26 years old, is the president of VCWSA since 2008, who is also a doctoral student of geology (endogenous dynamics) in RWTH Aachen University. And Shiyuan will keep on leading VCWSA in the coming 2009/10 academic year.
